Glossary term identifiers

Sphinx makes the identifier for a glossary term out of the term as it is written, so a term with a capital letter in it has one to match. The index that rst2pdf generates has to link to that identifier as Sphinx gave it, not to a version of it that has been through `make_id()`.

See Sign Extend, and lowercase term for comparison.

Sign Extend

Filling the high bits of a widened value with copies of its sign bit.

lowercase term

A term whose identifier survives being lowercased, so it works either way.
